THE PRAYERS OF THE PEOPLE

Almighty and All-Merciful God, you have taught us not to be afraid and you have promised to defend your people and to bring us into our inheritance: Harken to our voice when we call; have mercy on us and answer us, as we pray: God is our light and our salvation; whom then shall we fear?

Your Church seeks your face, O Merciful One, and our hearts are unafraid in you: May Christ our savior transform the body of our humiliation that it may be conformed to the body of his glory. God is our light and our salvation;

whom then shall we fear?

We live in a world where leaders misuse power, kill today's prophets, and stone those sent from God: Gather your children together, O Gracious One, from across the world as a hen gathers her brood under her wings, that all may see you and bless your holy name.

God is our light and our salvation;
whom then shall we fear?

You have given us a good land to possess, O Generous One, and you have surrounded us with your descendants more numerous than the stars of heaven: Bless our community and all of our neighbors, that we may know you and stand firm in your goodness.

God is our light and our salvation;
whom then shall we fear?

Your salvation comes to those in need: Hear our intercession for all for whom we pray, especially

Your love extends to the ends of the earth: Hear our many thanksgivings, especially ____.

Your resurrection power brings hope to the living and new life to the dead: Hear those whom we remember before you, especially ____.

God is our light and our salvation;
whom then shall we fear?

Your mysterious and powerful presence is with us, O Holy One; even in deep and terrifying darkness, your covenant promise is renewed: Let your Spirit be with your children in all times of trial, that our hearts may rest in you and not be afraid, through Jesus Christ our Savior. Amen.
